

About the Instructor:

Rebekah Wilhelm is a junior English major at Hillsdale College, a private liberal arts college in Hillsdale, Michigan. She has taught an online high school composition course for two years, successfully mentoring and guiding homeschooled students across the nation. Rebekah has offered SAT tutoring during the summer, and she currently works as an academic mentor at Hillsdale. Prior to teaching her own class, she also served as a teacher's assistant for an AP Literature course. After graduation, she plans either to teach English or enter the publishing field.
